

Steve was looking for added liquidity in his IRA to balance his longer term investments. Security Trust helped Steve find a reputable stockbroker in his area who understood the flexibility of Steve's IRA LLC. Steve then transferred some of his IRA's funds to the brokerage account where he actively invests.

Brokerage Accounts

Stocks, Bonds, Mutual funds, Futures, Options, Commodities

Brokerage accounts allow you to buy and sell publicly traded stocks, bonds, and mutual funds of your choosing with your IRA money. However, the brokerage companies restrict the trading of futures, options, and commodities markets in your IRA.

If you are experienced in these markets and know how to trade them for profit, you're typically locked out of them for retirement investing. Security Trust's method of IRA investing opens the doors to these markets for you. Choose our services today and begin investing in the markets you know.
